BACKGROUND SPEEDLIGHT

The flashtube socket housing is designed to accommodate different types of reflectors. This is accomplished by simply rotating the reflector retaining ring slightly to lock the desired reflector in place.

The conical reflector is convenient for easily producing various background effects. The detachable adapter will accommodate a diffuser, colored gelatin filters, and various size apertures, making it an exceptionally useful addition to the Studio-master series of speedlights.

The light direction shield shown in upper left of illustration is useful when flooding the background with even illumination, desirable for high key lightings.

The light direction shield can be rotated to control the light as desired.

Operates on either No. 8083-P-200 watt-second or 8083-P-400 watt-second power supply.

Uses No. 8083-S Stand as shown.
